Our School

IN order to understand the different types of courses offered at John Marshall, let us get a bird's-eye view of each department.

In the office we find Mr. Harwood, the principal, and his assistants who organize the school, assign the teachers, and arrange the program of classes. They see to revision of the courses of study, choice of text books, problems of attendance, discipline, supervision and other such office work.

The work of the school nurse and librarians is self-explanatory.

In the English division we find Miss Branch and twenty other instructors, whose aim it is to teach 3,051 pupils to use the mother tongue correctly and effectively. Teachers of English sponsor many school activities such as The Monocle, Record, Van Vort Debating Society, Marshall Debating Society, Class of Drama, and Quill and Scroll.

Miss Engelberg states, "Next to English the study of History offers students the most varied field of interest and culture. It prepares students for the responsibility of citizenship; traces the evolution of society; gives the background of problems which must be faced and solved; enables students to evaluate nations, men, movements and culture, and gives them an understanding of their fellowmen, which is the basis of enduring peace."

For those pupils who plan to enter college, the Mathematic Department offers four years of sufficient training in Algebra, Plane and Solid Geometry, and Trigonometry. Commercial Arithmetic and Review of Arithmetic are also taught. The ultimate desire in teaching mathematics is to teach the student how to reason, a quality which is indeed a necessity in life. Mr. Givens heads this department.

The Science Department offers courses both practical and interesting. Considering the scientific age in which we now live, it is the desire of Mr. Fowlkes and the instructors of the Science Department to aid the student to live in his environment in an understanding and appreciative way.

Miss Angel says that the commercial courses are planned to train the pupil to acquire an appreciation of the vocational significance of commercial subjects; to acquire such knowledge as will prepare him for remunerative employment; to form personal habits conducive to success in business; to form proper appreciations of the importance of good citizenship and a broad and thorough education as a foundation for success in business vocations.

Mr. Sisson heads the Vocational Department where many boys who, for one reason or another find themselves unable to attend college, or even to complete the usual four years of high school, are offered two-year courses in Electricity and Machine Shop, preparatory to entering the industries. The broader vision and increased confidence created by this experience promotes better citizenship.

The Latin Course covering four years aims to prepare the student for the ordinary Freshman year in college, and to supply a cultural value for the student whose education ends with high school. Miss Williams is the head of the Latin Department.

Three modern languages are taught at John Marshall: French and Spanish under the direction of Miss Holt, and German under Miss Wilson. Enthusiasm in these subjects is aroused by the Modern Language Scholarship which is offered annually.

Military-training is offered at John Marshall but is not compulsory. Nevertheless the cadet corps includes a great number of boys in the school.

The Music Department under the direction of Messrs. Mercer and Donohue includes courses in theoretical and practical music, the school orchestra, and chorus.

Art is an optional course, but a great number of students take advantage of the opportunity offered along this line of study.

The Home Economics Department has as its creed, "More home making less housekeeping." It aims to teach the girls to think in terms of living and family relationships.

With this just this glimpse into each department, perhaps this gives some idea of the varied types of courses offered at John Marshall High School.

Senior Class History

IT SEEMS as though it were only yesterday that we, as Freshmen, were duly impressed with our own importance on being asked to help in the choosing of a class sponsor. We were very fortunate in selecting one who has been a pal to everyone, and the most ardent class worker of all, Miss Elise Stephenson. Then came the first class meeting—will we ever forget it? At that time the first class officers were nominated. Those elected were Bernice Smith, president; Mildred Grundy, vice-president; Elizabeth Strange, secretary; Margaret Lockwood, treasurer; Ann Sweeney, reporter; and Anne Thompson, historian. Thus, under this leadership, the first year at high school of this class now graduating was begun.

Suddenly after a "short" summer vacation we found ourselves Sophomores. We had blossomed out from the bewildered Freshman period into quite blasé Sophomores. This spirit lasted until the Senior-Junior-Sophomore Dance, when we were properly put in our places by the overpowering upper classmen. But we did not let this mar our good times which were directed this year by Eugene Smith as class president; Virginia Burton, his able assistant. Others filling offices were: Dorothy Saunders, Stella Anderson, Mildred Lucy, Elise Robertson, not to mention Miss Stephenson who was really the power behind the throne.

Our Junior year was quite a success. We were in most of the Senior good times and were almost tolerated by them. One of the most outstanding memories of this year was the preparation for Junior Stunt Night when we presented "Toreador and the Cavalier". Miss Stephenson and the class president, Horace Hardaway, were great pals. One could always find Leila Gordon, vice-president, in her room "talking things over". Other officers were Arthur DeBiasi, Eleanor Hening, Anita Pullen, and M. R. Cooper.

We simply danced our way into our Senior year without realizing it. The selection of officers was one of the most warmly contested in years. Nonchalant Roger Page was chosen president; all-around good sport Virginia Seelinger was elected vice-president; the quite athletic Walter Todd was entrusted with the class funds; another Todd, also interested in sports, Charles, became secretary; for our reporter we picked the highly intelligent Anne Thompson; and lastly Katherine Chasen was selected historian. The membership drive immediately after election was not very successful, but the two events which followed awakened the interest of quite a few and brought them in as members. They were the Junior-Senior Dance and the picnic at Bryan Park, at which all football rules were ruthlessly cast aside by the two teams of thirty players each, all playing at the same time, and at which all speed records were broken by Hume Powell in search of the treasure. These were followed by a theatre party. Soon came the Senior-Junior-Sophomore Dance which was the talk of the school because of a unique feature, a prize waltz in which Adelaide Chalkley won a corsage dancing with Hume Powell, who was awarded a gardenia for his lapel. The Seniors as usual presented the Christmas play.

The second term was opened by the usual membership drive, and on the heels of this came the Junior-Senior Dance. There were also Junior Stunt Night, in honor of the Senior Class, and a dance given us by the Sophomores. The annual spring picnic was held in May. This enjoyable year was brought to a close with the customary "bang"—Senior Class Night, at which a play followed by a dance was presented. This was the night of the traditional mixture of emotions, but in the midst of so much excitement all traditions were thrown to the winds and good time was had by all.

As a parting shot the graduating class of 1934 wish to challenge the future graduating classes of John Marshall to equal, if not surpass their program of joyful times and to ask them always to keep John Marshall the "best school in the world".

Vocational Class History

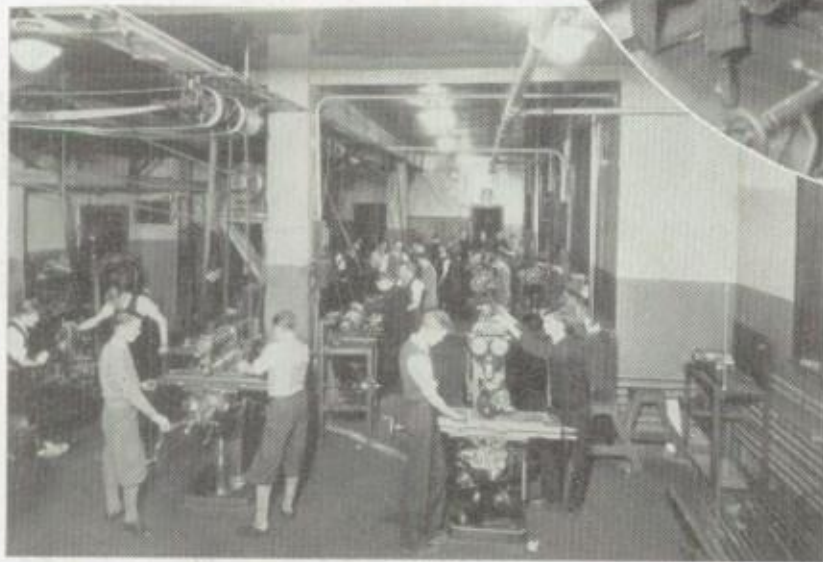

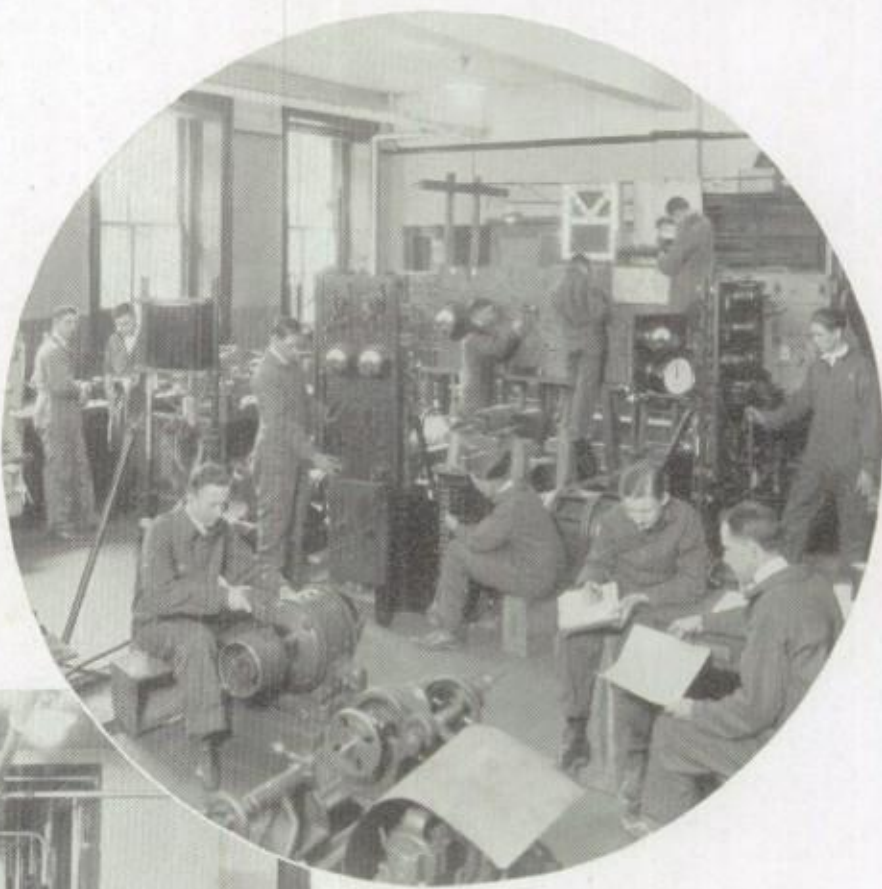

THE machine and electrical shop boys, although our course is only a two-year one, have an interesting history, one which shows that we have entered fully into the life of the school and have helped in many important ways. Some of John Marshall's good baseball, basketball, football, and track material has come from our group. Shaughnessy, Richards, Parker, and Johnson have upheld us masterfully on the athletic fields, and the rest of us have tried to be on hand to cheer them and their teammates on to victory.

We were busy every morning operating the projection machine either for assembly or for chorus. And, too, for assembly, quite often we operated the public address system in the auditorium. We were called on for every play or dance to work the lighting system, which we have gladly done. We have cooperated in this at the Cadet Hops, all the class dances, the operetta, Maid in Japan, the play, Adam and Eva, and for the Thanksgiving and Christmas plays.

Each year, and our class was no exception, Mr. Sisson, our adviser, teacher and friend, has taken us on observation trips to many of the industrial plants of the city. From this we have gained a great deal of knowledge as well as some contacts with the business world. This has helped and will help a great deal.

As a grand finale for every year, we have been taken to Mr. Sisson's home on the Rappahannock River for a picnic. We always have a grand and glorious time, swimming, fishing, boating, eating, and being sociable. It is a fine place and we love it. But when we leave, the majority of us are severely blistered and the consequences are not so good.

We leave John Marshall with a hope that our successors may enjoy it and appreciate its advantages as we have.

Junior Class History

WE JUNIORS of 1933-34 assumed a more serious attitude toward our school life when the first term of our year began, because we realized that soon we would be in the year terminating our high school career in John Marshall. We commenced our activities by choosing as officers those classmates who we knew could fulfill their duties with gratifying success. Billy McCarthy was elected president; "Kitty" Carpenter, our vice-president; Rosemary Golden, selected for secretary; Tinsley Kennedy for treasurer; Julia Bowles was our reporter; and Ernest Mead, the historian. In these leaders we realized our finest expectations. But only through the inspiring assistance and guidance of Miss Eva Tatum, our sponsor, could we have fashioned our Junior Year into the success it has been.

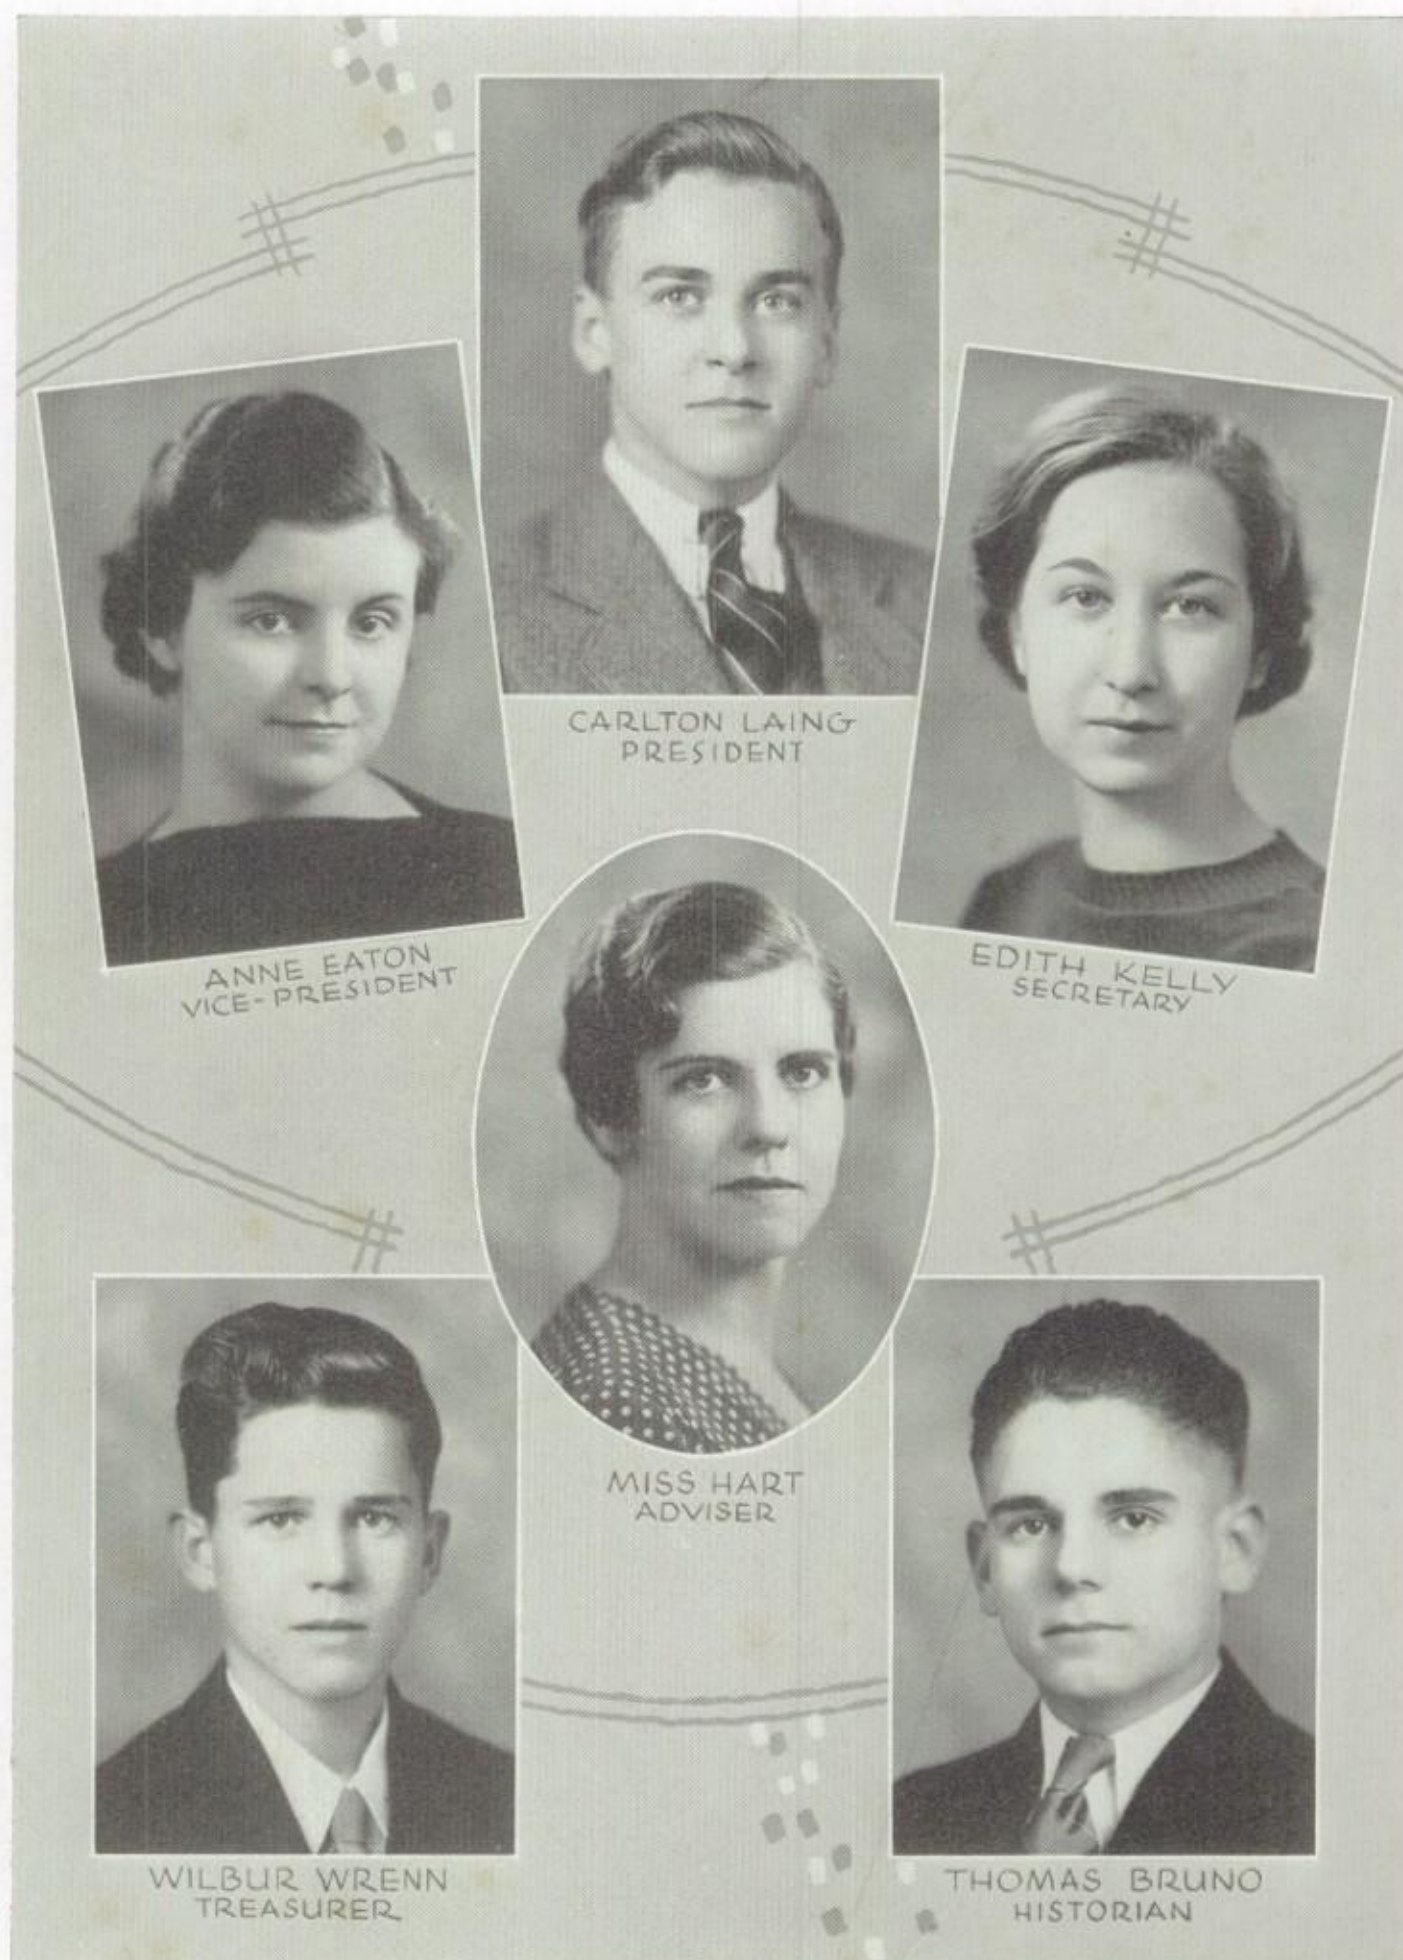

We climaxed a spirited opening of our year with a dance, given by the Juniors and Seniors in Wythe Gym. Everyone thoroughly enjoyed himself, and eagerly awaited the next event. This was a well managed meeting, held in the auditorium, and consisting for the most part of dances by our various talented members, and a delightful skit. An exhilarating afternoon was afforded the Juniors when, later in the season, a winter picnic was arranged. The only calamity of this occasion was, however, that our president, arriving a bit late, found all the edibles vanished—these Juniors!—but he bore it like a Spartan. Our Christmas dance proved quite a thrilling occasion. To the beat of gay tunes crowds poured into Wythe Gym. The maidens had donned their fairest robes, and with a halo of gayly colored decorations were charming, and under the spotlight, quite fascinating. To add to the excitement a waltzing contest was held. Thus we had a display of the intricate and fantastic dance fads, so dexterously executed by John Marshall's students. Although the babbling brooks were frozen over, our evening jaunt on January 12th proved an enjoyable afternoon. Incidentally, our president took pains to be present on time, and to see that the foodstuffs were distributed with appropriate fairness.

We concluded the membership campaign of the second term very interestingly. First the Juniors and Seniors held a dance at which the Juniors featured an entertaining floor show by Miss Eleanor Fry's pupils. Then the Junior Who's Who Contest was under way. We acclaimed Lorene German and Billy McCarthy the most class spirited; and "Kitty" Carpenter and Fleming Gill were thought the best all-around members. Edith Smith and Charles Spain won the election as most athletic, and Luch Latham and Ernest Mead were considered the most intellectual students. In our opinion, Lucille Dent and Merrill Ittner were the best looking girl and boy, whereas Alice Fuqua and Burdette Givens were voted the most popular. Because of the fine quality of the Juniors this year there was much difficulty in making our choice, which, when the results were accordingly delayed, occasioned exceptional interest. On the afternoon of March 23rd, the Juniors and Sophomores held a dance. The Juniors are very proud of these afternoon affairs, which have their origin in the fine social element found in the class of 1935. With our now proverbial class spirit we Juniors participated in the Field Day on April 11th. This is the first of these competitions in many years, and we were duly proud of the results. The Junior Stunt Night on May 11th was a memorable event. In the play presented by the Juniors not a little dramatic skill was exhibited, making each succeeding act anticipated with greater interest. The success of this play was responsible to the skill of our director, Mr. Giménez. Following the play we gave the Seniors a farewell dance, which also marked our transition from "jovial" Juniors to "sophisticated" Seniors. In the laurels we obtained in our Junior year, we will build a greater year when Seniors, that our school, John Marshall, will remember the "class of 1935" with pride.

Sophomore Class History

JUST think—in about two weeks I will be a Junior! Well, I guess I had better get this home work completed.

What's the matter with that radio? Here I am trying to get Eddie Cantor and that college program insists on crowding it out. What's that about the Sophs finishing out their class year with a farewell party? I wonder if they had the same experiences and good times that we did through this year.

Why only yesterday I saw Marie Keyser, who was our president last year. Marie with the aid of Kenneth Adams, Audrey Smith, and Royall Brandis led the class through a somewhat uneventful year, through no fault of their own to be sure.

This year, however, we started off with the customary uproar over the nomination and election of officers. The class chose Carlton Laing as president, Anne Eaton as his understudy, Wilbur Wrenn to watch the treasury, Edith Kelly to keep the records and Thomas Bruno to take care of the historical end of it.

How we did enjoy those meetings in October and November! And to think I heard some Seniors say that we had no talent in our class. Why! we have Alice Anne Finke who is well known throughout the city for her tap dancing. Selma King, our piano soloist, is an excellent player as the class will testify. Besides these we have others who play the harmonica, sing, and do many interesting things. With such talent as this we will not as Juniors lack material for our Stunt Night.

In December there was the Senior, Junior, and Sophomore Dance. The cream of the school was there, the girls in beautiful evening gowns and the boys, some in tuxedos and others in neat dark suits. The spot light, with its many colors, would every now and then point out some particular couple who were doing a smart step, and then again it would wander aimlessly over the floor, now here, now there.

Next was that meeting in January when Wilbur Wrenn announced that the finances of the class had taken a new and very low drop.

Then came the spring months with everyone getting ready for the Easter Parade. At the meetings all would be talking excitedly, the girls about their new hats or shoes or their bouquets and the boys about what they would do on the holidays.

Now as we look ahead into the coming vacation, during which we hope everyone has a good time, we prophesy, "Look ahead and you will see us having a great and prosperous Junior year and an even greater and more prosperous Senior year."

THOMAS BRUNO,
Historian.

THIS year's rifle team has been one of the most active in years, showing up well in individual team matches against Louisville Male High School unit of Kentucky and Carson Long Institute of Bloomfield, Pennsylvania, as well as in the Third Corps Area Match, and National William Randolph Hearst Trophy Matches conducted through the Commanding General of Sixth Corps Area, at Chicago.

The team is grateful to Captain Shoemaker and Sergeant Sturdivant for their coaching and support.

Cadet Hop

IT WAS beautiful—this 1934 Cadet Hop of ours—a magic story-book ball in reality. Forty-five high school girls had turned into beautiful Cinderellas and forty-five cadets into Prince Charmings. As they marched through the interesting and beautiful movements of the figure to lovely music and under soft colored lights, they experienced the same drill that Cinderella did on her night of nights. It didn't seem possible that so much fun could be crowded into one evening. When the figure came to an end, each girl was given a lovely favor to keep and cherish as a remembrance of the grandest night she had ever had. Then, in a shower of beautiful colored balloons, the figure was over, and the dancing began. Just like Cinderella's ball it was over at 12:00, but each girl and boy will remember its fun and its thrills forever.

Forum Club

FOR the past few years there has flourished at John Marshall an organization known as the Forum Club, the purpose of which is to stimulate among pupils interest in better speech. Here we have an opportunity to learn to express ourselves in a clear-cut, interesting manner, to become acquainted with parliamentary law, and in many ways to perfect and establish a poise and confidence that stamps us as better public speakers.

When the day comes for us to leave John Marshall High School and all its activities—clubs, athletic teams, debating societies, dramatic groups—we feel sure that The Forum Club will be greatly missed by those of us who step down from the platform of school life to take our places in the world.

Harwood Literary Society

"THE meeting will please come to order!" At this point the Harwood Literary Society settles down for business and pleasure. The name implies the fact that the members of the society spend their time writing stories, poems, etc., but this is not so. "A good time is always had by all." The society consists of all of the Public Speaking 2 classes from February to June. Its purpose is to arouse the interest of pupils in better speech. The members learn to express themselves clearly on open-forum days. Parliamentary law prevails, this helping the pupil in future life, since it is necessary at public gatherings. After belonging to the society for a year, the members as a rule are no longer bashful. They forget bashfulness in the fun and entertainments of the society.

Self-responsibility is taught the pupil by giving him complete charge of a program for a set day. He learns to act for himself and usually succeeds. Taken all in all, the Harwood Literary Society is a great help to John Marshall High School.

When the president says, "The meeting is adjourned," each one hates to leave, because the program has been so interesting, the comments have been so helpful, and he has had an altogether delightful time.

Junior and Senior French Societies

"HOLÁ, TOUT LE MONDE." "Nous autres" just want to let you who do not "parlez francais" know how unfortunate you are and what perfectly grand opportunities you are missing.

In the first place, we who "étudions le francais" are most fortunate in having some teachers who have studied in France. Their interesting accounts of French life hold the undivided attention of the class, and sometimes we find ourselves in gay Paris, riding one of those unique French trains, or gazing at the twin towers and exquisite portals of Notre-Dame, or in a lovely French café having our "diner."

Of course, we have to come down to earth once in a while, because there are those irregular verbs to study and grammar rules to learn; but we all know that there are few accomplishments without effort.

When we begin translating the hilariously funny French comedies which Labiche et Martin must have written expressly for us, we forget to call it hard work, and it is not unusual for the class to go into roars of laughter. In the French classes we try to use French as much as possible. We can really give ourselves a "pat on the back" because most of us are succeeding very well.

When those of us who are studying French visit "le beau pays de France," our trip will mean far more to us than to those who do not know French. Do you not think, now, that you may consider the time we spend in studying French very valuable? Will you not come and join us in learning "la belle langue francaise?"

Junior and Senior Spanish Societies

THE romance and beauty, the customs and manners of old Spain, the dream of air castles, the thrills of a bull fight, the rumble of tambourines, and melody of love songs lure us into the study of Spanish.

We "Spaniards" go by the theory: "Los resultados de un poco de trabajo cada dia son excelentes." For the benefit of those who "no comprenden," let's speak in English. No, the noise coming out of that room is not a mass meeting of anarchists, but only a junior Spanish class diligently trying to pronounce a vocabulary. Do not be alarmed at the sound coming from the auditorium: it is only the Spanish classes singing one of the many songs they know. In fact, we sing so well that we gave a Spanish program over the radio, which met with general approval. We become greatly excited over the romantic and dramatic stories we read. Adventure, romance and mystery are found in such stories as "La Mariposa Blanca" and "El Pájaro Verde."

Today modern means of transportation and communication bring American interests closer to the Spanish speaking countries south of us. We feel and see the influence of Spanish each day. We are learning to appreciate and realize the value of this beautiful language. Napoleon said, "El que habla dos idiomas vale por dos." Those who do not appreciate the outstanding value and importance of Spanish are fewer as the years pass.

Motto: "Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free"

WITH such a poem to introduce them into Quill and Scroll work, members of this International Honorary Society for High School Journalists could hardly fail to hold up the high standards of journalism. Following the example of internationally known editors and press associations, this chapter has endeavored to do distinctive work as a chapter and as individuals.

The officers, Martha Ellis, president; Laura Coit, vice-president; Anne Thompson, secretary; Evelyn Wells, reporter; Miss Charles Anthony, faculty adviser, have worked hard and led their charges in many undertakings. In group contests members have won consistently in their section, some in the nation; in school activities they have made profitable contact with teachers and other students; as individuals they have engaged in events too numerous to recount.

Scribbler, Å Å Å and Shorty Clubs

THREE shorthand classes were organized into clubs known as "The Shorty Club," "The Scribbler's Club" and "The Å Å Å Club," under the direction of Mrs. Madge Henderson in the fall of '34 to develop an interest in and a better understanding of shorthand, and to try to develop a better class and school spirit.

Dorothy Otto, president of the Scribblers, led the class in many interesting meetings. Louise Ely made a research of the history of shorthand and reported her findings in one of the club meetings. Louise Dunham, president of the Shorty Club, made a very inspiring and able leader. The Shorties "went places and did things," and as a result at the end of the semester found their finances running low. Ann Peple was president of the Å Å Å's and led the three classes in a joint meeting at the end of the term in the auditorium. The talent for this meeting was furnished by all three classes.

THE Van Vort Debating Society not only tries to teach the principles of debating and oratory, but it has a higher purpose—to develop more useful and capable leaders for the school and all situations of life.

At times we have argued in deep terms over perplexing problems, and again we have frolicked over such light debates as, "Resolved, That Seniors Should Be Allowed the Privilege of Sleeping in Class."

We have, as in past years, been loyally sponsored by Miss Mary Richeson, to whom we Van Vorts not only are grateful, but also attribute our success.

The State Debate this year was, "Resolved, That the Counties of Virginia Should Adopt the Executive Form of Government as Outlined in the Optional Forms Act of 1932." Julia Doss and Mary Meade Apperson, upholding the negative, and Annette Hawkes and Dorothy Lux, the affirmative, debated the boys' teams in the spring.

WELL, Marshallites! Again we come to the end of a most successful year of which pie and cake sales, a dance, a cabin party, a rummage sale, and theater parties were the main highlights. Why should it not be a successful year, with such a fine group of girls coöperating?

Miss Dorothy Cottrell, our sponsor, was everything a sponsor could be and even more.

Tommy Jordan, that tall, good-looking string of misery, did his share in putting the club over with a bang!

Marjorie Williams, our president—and what a president! Who could ask for more? Smiles and more smiles!

Virginia Bannister, our vice-president, is perfect plus. But the "old love bug" nibbled on her.

Adelaide Chalkley, the little "minute-catcher"—Sister Dena gave the Aces a dance, a cabin party and plenty of club spirit.

Kitty Collier, the money collector, is always trying to collect dues. Let Kitty show you what the well dressed girl will wear.

Martha Courtney, our reporter, is swell. When anyone speaks of the Ace that is such a good sport, they're referring to Martha.

Lucetta Crawford is a gift to the Aces from Hampton—not bad, these girls from Hampton!

Elizabeth Crabbin, "Peppy"—the nickname explains everything—pep, vim, and vigor.

Mabel Grubbs is the baby Ace. Speaking of shining, have you ever looked into those large brown eyes of Mabel's?

Patty Kidder, the little girl that left us for a year to go to Hampton, knew that we couldn't do without her, so she came back and is just as Acey as ever.

Mildred Lucy, the dancer, has dimples, curls, and she's the pride of the Aces!

Gladys Nunnally is tall, dark and serene, sweet as they come. She doesn't talk much, but when she does—

Lois Woodall, wee, wistful and winning, is every inch an Ace, from the tip of her toe to the top of her curly head.

THE Cavalier Club had a successful year:
 Of our President Aubrey you will always hear.
 Vice-President Aulton Thomas, who some claim is meek,
 Managed somehow to have a front seat.
 "Johnny" Wingfield, our secretary galore,
 Smiled over his work and asked for more.
 "Tommy" Jordon, our treasurer, is one swell guy.
 He can take our money without a sigh
 "Bob" Fitzpatrick, an excellent reporter this year—
 Everyone likes "Bob," who deserves a loud cheer.
 "Johnny" Dunnington, a faithful Cavalier—
 How could we get along without him here?
 "Jack" Stultz—a likeable boy;
 For everyone he has a word of joy.
 Of little "Chuck" Chalkley let us say,
 "Very small but, oh, so gay!"
 "Joe" Wharton, always a gay Cavalier;
 We shall remember Joe for many a year.
 "Jack" Lorraine whom everyone knows—
 We'll be sorry when he goes.
 Merrill Ittner, our silent chap,
 Beams and smiles—just like that.
 Frank Wicker, to whom nothing matters,
 Boots us up with his glad chatters.
 Robert Givens with eyes of brown
 Teases every girl in town.
 "Billy" Forrer who is big and round
 Keeps everyone jolly while he's around.
 Forrest Norvell blushes quite a bit,
 But with all the girls makes quite a hit.
 Now, as you know—the best for the last:
 Our sponsor and mascot cannot be surpassed—
 Mr. Woodham and Miss Gladys Slaughter, too,
 Have been our friends ever so true.

AS THIS is the last year John Marshall will have social clubs, we are giving a brief resumé of Who's been Who in the Demon Club since its organization in 1929.

1929—The first year saw Pat Powell in the office of "Grand Demon," with Miss Annie Truitt as sponsor. This year the girls were rather boy shy and had no mascot.

1930—Martha Rosenfeld led the club in its "Demonish Doin's." Roger Brown, the first mascot, proved to be a welcome and helpful addition.

1931—Showing herself to be a true leader, Martha was re-chosen president. The charming Miss Elise Stephenson acted as faculty adviser and Harold Goodman was mascot.

1932—Petite Kathryn Woodson headed us. The beloved and never-to-be-forgotten Childrey Austin was mascot. A new sponsor, Miss Frances Tyler, was selected.

1933—This year the club achieved great heights under the leadership of Maxine Freeman. The football star, Jimmie Farley, was the true-blue mascot.

1934—Most ably guided by Virginia Burton, the club in its last year as a school organization reached a glorious climax. The delightful office secretary, Miss Constance King, helped each one to do her part; and, last but not least, Aubrey Ross was our mascot.

Throughout its entire career the "Demon Club" has done its utmost to uphold school spirit and promote school activities.

AS WE open the Duckie Memory Book for 1934 we find many things we know we will never forget. On the first page we find the officers, and as we look them over we know that they realized their responsibilities and filled their positions just as serious-minded Ducks would do. We know that "Nita," one of the most popular girls at John Marshall, has been an ideal president; Peple, always smiling, full of pep, and a good sport, could not be surpassed as vice-president; Eleanor, who likes everybody and is liked by everybody, has made the best secretary ever; Peggy, that pretty little blonde dues-digger, has certainly got the money; and Ann has written the "Duckie Data" for The Monocle in true Duckie fashion. These Duckies just couldn't be beat; but if all the members hadn't had that real Duckie spirit, the club would not have prospered as well.

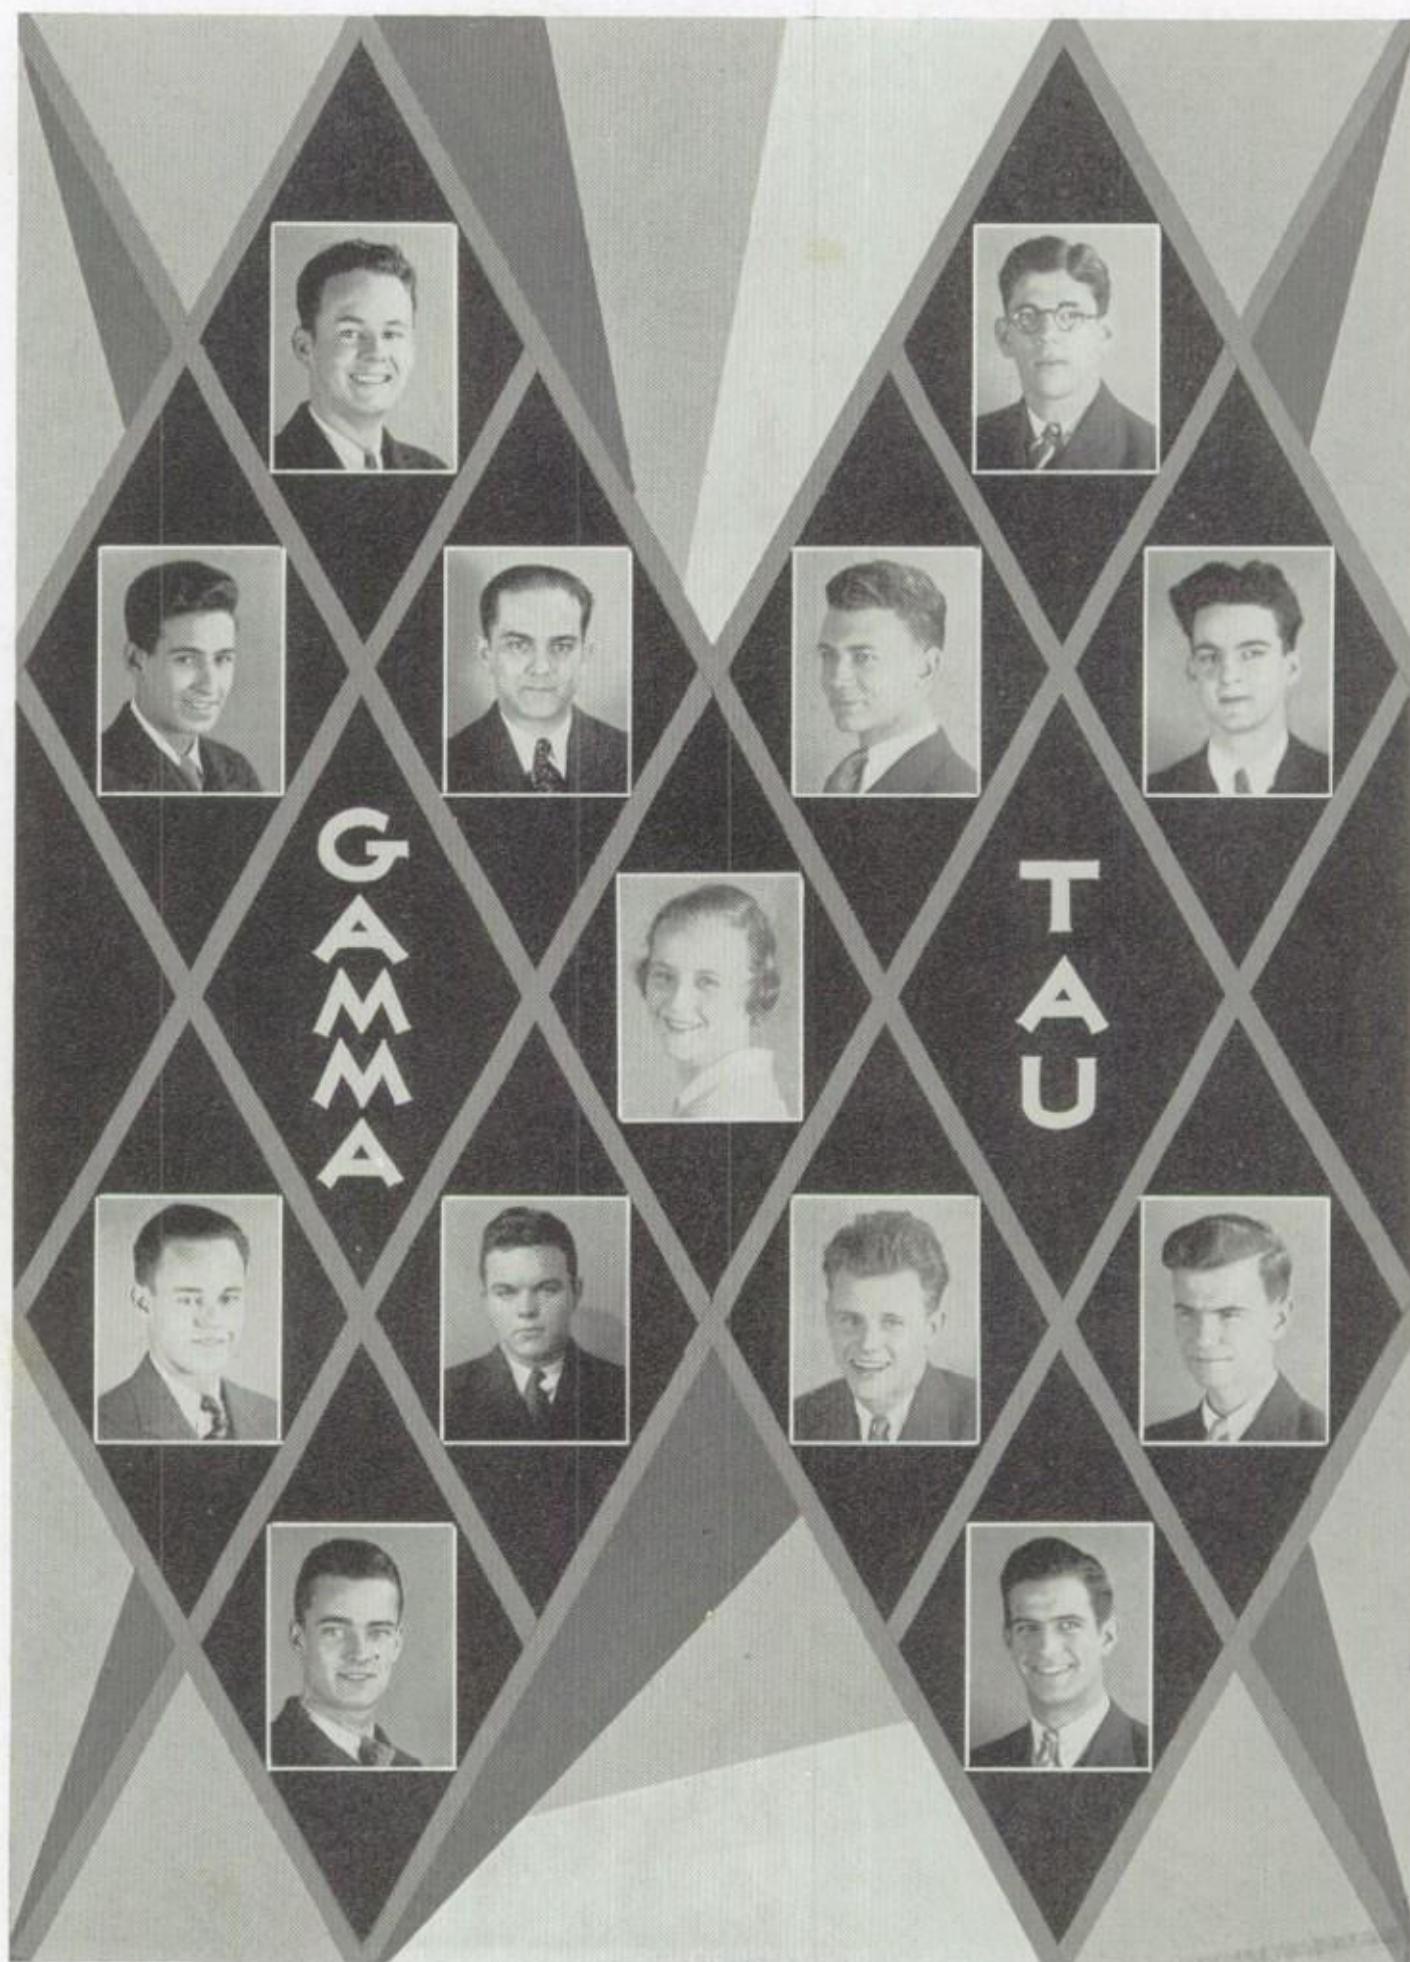

As we think of the officers and the head Duckies, we all remember the best two of all—one, the big sister Duckie, Miss Ethel Hill, our sponsor, and the other (we don't know whether to call him our big brother or our sweetheart), Burdette Givens, our mascot. We'll never forget the fun we've had with these two.

When we turn the pages in our Memory Book we see that it is divided—one page for the work we've done and one for the fun we've had. But this was hard to decide, for all our work was fun and all of our fun was work.

We remember pie and cake sales. We'll never forget selling armbands for the football games and we'll always remember saying, "Come on—buy some J. M. stickers—two for a nickel." All of this work was to make money, but as we look back over it we realize how much fun it was.

The social activities of the Duckies turned out most successfully. There was the kid party given to the club by the Alumni, weiner roasts, picnics, and those never-to-be-forgotten house parties at Peple's and at Henning's when the new bids were initiated. We had several delightful dances—one with the Bachelors and another with the Bootsies.

So we see, as we turn the last page and close the cover of our Memory Book, that this has truly been a "Duckie" year, and may we wish that the Duckie Club of '35 will carry on in the same spirit of loyalty and coöperation that has characterized the "Duckies" of the past in living up to their high ideals.

Hello, everybody!

We are on the air (and when have we not been?) to offer, for your pleasure and entertainment—

"THE GAMMA TAU MEDLEY"

The numbers in the program are as follows:

- "Throw Another Log on the Fire," featuring Donald Wright, the football team's handsome End.
- "Maybe Next Week, Some Time," featuring Stuart Todd, the mascot of the Scotties.
- "I'm a Night Owl," featuring Winkie Cheadle, the Gamma Tau's own artist.
- "Coming Through the Rye," featuring Mac Buhrman, our football captain.
- "Let's Fall in Love," featuring "Tomato" Walsh, "God's gift to the ladies!"
- "Pink Elephants," featuring "Duke" Wright, who certainly had a lot of trouble with the Billy Goat!
- "Lazy Bones," featuring Ed Talley, another one of the "heart-breakers."
- "There Goes My Heart," featuring Nubby Todd, for whom life means just three things: His girl—his girl and—his girl!
- "Heaven Only Knows," featuring "Toastie" Tolson, who was too wise to give himself up.
- "I Just Couldn't Take It, Baby!" featuring Billy Bricker. Maybe he could, but he can't.
- "An Orchid to You," featuring Peggy Wagener, our wonderful help and inspiration, our mascot.
- "Breeze," featuring "Gorkins" Gaskins, who always enjoyed the cool breezes of the river after a hard day's work.
- "Carry Me Back to Old Virginny," featuring Johnny Forbes. Dear, dear! Such patriotism!
- "Give Me Liberty or Give Me Love," featuring Bill Sims, our president, who thinks a little love won't hurt.
- "Who's Afraid of the Big Bad Wolf?" featuring Rafael Giménez, our sponsor, who keeps the club from "going to the wolves."

And now, to the strains of "Auld Lang Syne," we bring to a close our program.

THE Idma Year of 1933-34 was very successful. Houston, "Mike," Bartlett, together with Earl Martin and Bob Omohundro, carried on in the Cadet Corps.

William Sullivan helped the club very much, being on the Monocle staff. Bill also was a cheer leader.

Lee McLaughlin represented us on the football team. In basketball, James Mundy played a very important part, being one of the first stringers. James along with Jimmie Ryan held up our athletic standing on the baseball team.

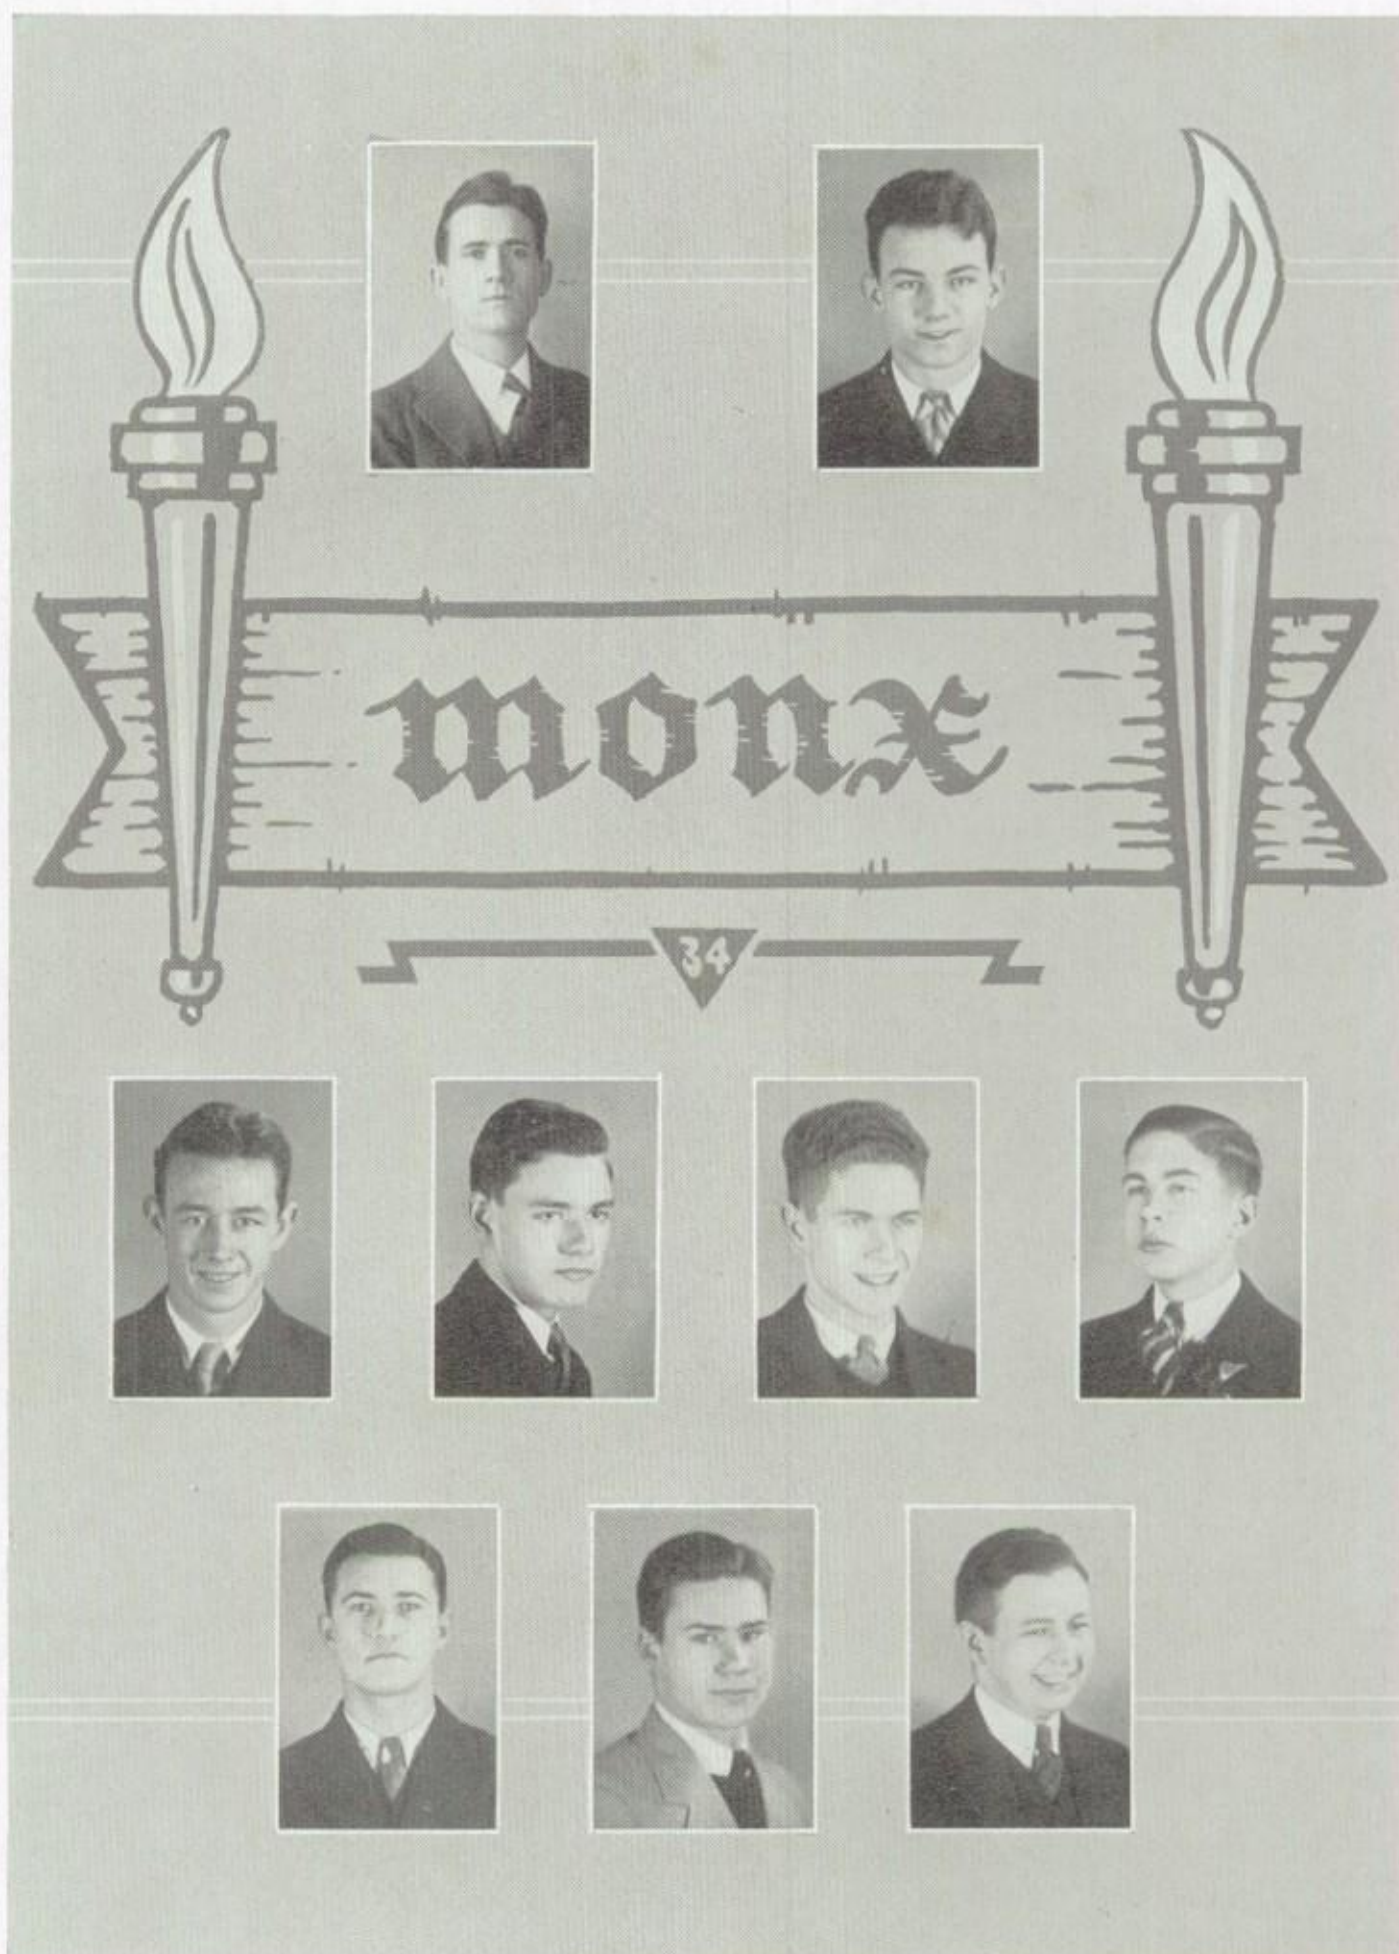

Our "ladies' man" is Raymon, "Dickie," Waymack, who was mascot of the "Nix" Club.

Hume Powell seems to be our best dancer, winning the waltzing contest held by the Senior class.

Harry Hilliard, Archie Boyd, Earl McIndoe, and Baker Causey, all assuming members, are real Idmas, taking part in every club activity.

Altogether the club enjoyed a successful year, having many get-togethers in the form of dances, house parties and puppy frys, along with other school activities.

We wish to express our gratitude to Mr. Moore for his help, encouragement and thoughtful advice.

HELLO, Seniors. Stop! Look! Read!

You can learn all about the persons who helped to make this year successful for the Nu Iota Chi.

Mrs. Bugg, the swellest sponsor, is a grand adviser as well as the best sport.

Who is that honey-looking blonde boy with the come-hither smile? Dickie Of course! He is an Idma man and a Rendezvous. He is also the "bestest" of the best mascots.

Under the splendid guidance of Elizabeth Leonard, our president, we have had some good old times. Just try to stay blue around her—impossible!

Frances Smithie, our vice-president, helped the club a great deal. She is noted for having swell parties and her house is always open for the club's use.

A pretty blonde secretary is Kitty Peyton, who is as swell as she looks.

Have you seen her—that curly, red-head treasurer of ours? Well, that's Marge-rate Richardson.

Sweet and dainty describes our reporter, Adell Elliote; and can she dig up news!

Noelwa is The One and is she all for V. P. I! I'll say.

Does Anne have a hard time trying to divide her time between the club and a certain used-to-be captain?

A very attractive young member that has a weakness for "D" Co.—Marjorie? Yes, that's her.

Plain as an old shoe, but cute as they come, is our Dallas.

Ida Lane. Her engaging personality turns chance acquaintances into everlasting friends.

Only those who know Elaine will appreciate her quiet and unassuming manner.

Mary Ellen, better known as Tee, is a school-girl pal whose friendship will not be easily forgotten.

ANOTHER successful year for the Scotties has ended, and it will not be easy to forget.

Miss Mary Williams is our sponsor, and we can't help loving her.

Our Gamma Tau mascot, Stuart Todd, never misses a meeting, and is on hand for everything. We just rely on him.

Never was there a better president than our beautiful blonde, Frances Schaaf. She really makes the old heart flutter!

Audrey Brothers is the cutest little vice-president, with her "come-hither" eyes and contagious laugh.

Tall, good-looking, and oh, so sweet!—Nancy Gatewood, who records our hectic meetings.

The girl with the profile—that's Atala West. She has a big job keeping the Scottie funds in order.

Ann Luttrell had rather dance than eat (and we don't mind). As you probably know, Ann is a grand dancer.

If you ever see Elsie Dodd's lovely hair in disorder, let us know, for we never have!

Shep Bowles is our Gracie Allen. Don't let her run you crazy!

The Scotties try to have everything at Kitty Carpenter's, because she's so sweet, and we have such a swell time at her house.

Another place to have "some fun" is at Mary Roy Baker's cabin on the Potomac.

Edith Walker, our only red-head, holds records. She has been known to giggle steadily through entire meetings.

Little-bitty Anne Applebee is bound to be a great, big heart-breaker!

Our pet, Helen Strange, is a fine swimmer, and will probably turn out to be a Helene Madison.

Elizabeth Oliver is all for a certain company, and he doesn't mind. Would you?

The "silent party" to this crowd is Nancy Chisholm. She is a swell Scottie, too.

Let us tell you about our newest bid, Virginia Lowe. The best way we know of to express it is: "Did you ever see a dream walking? Well, we did!"

Graduation is taking Frances, Ann, Elsie, Mary Roy, and Edith out of the Scotties, but it can't take the Scotties out of them!

With a cheerful bark,

THE PUP.

THE Swastika Club was formed in 1930 by a group of boys interested in furthering good fellowship. The year 1933 and 1934 proved to be a most successful one.

The year's social activities started off with a trip to the Rappahannock with an over-night stop at Burdette's Cabin. Everybody had a good time, the only drawback being Walker's truck.

Next the club attended a dance together. The club's password, "Hitler," was adopted there.

The Easter Holidays came along and the club journeyed to the Rappahannock again, hoping to find a real live Easter Bunny. A good time was had by all.

Then the good old springtime arrived and there was no end to good times.

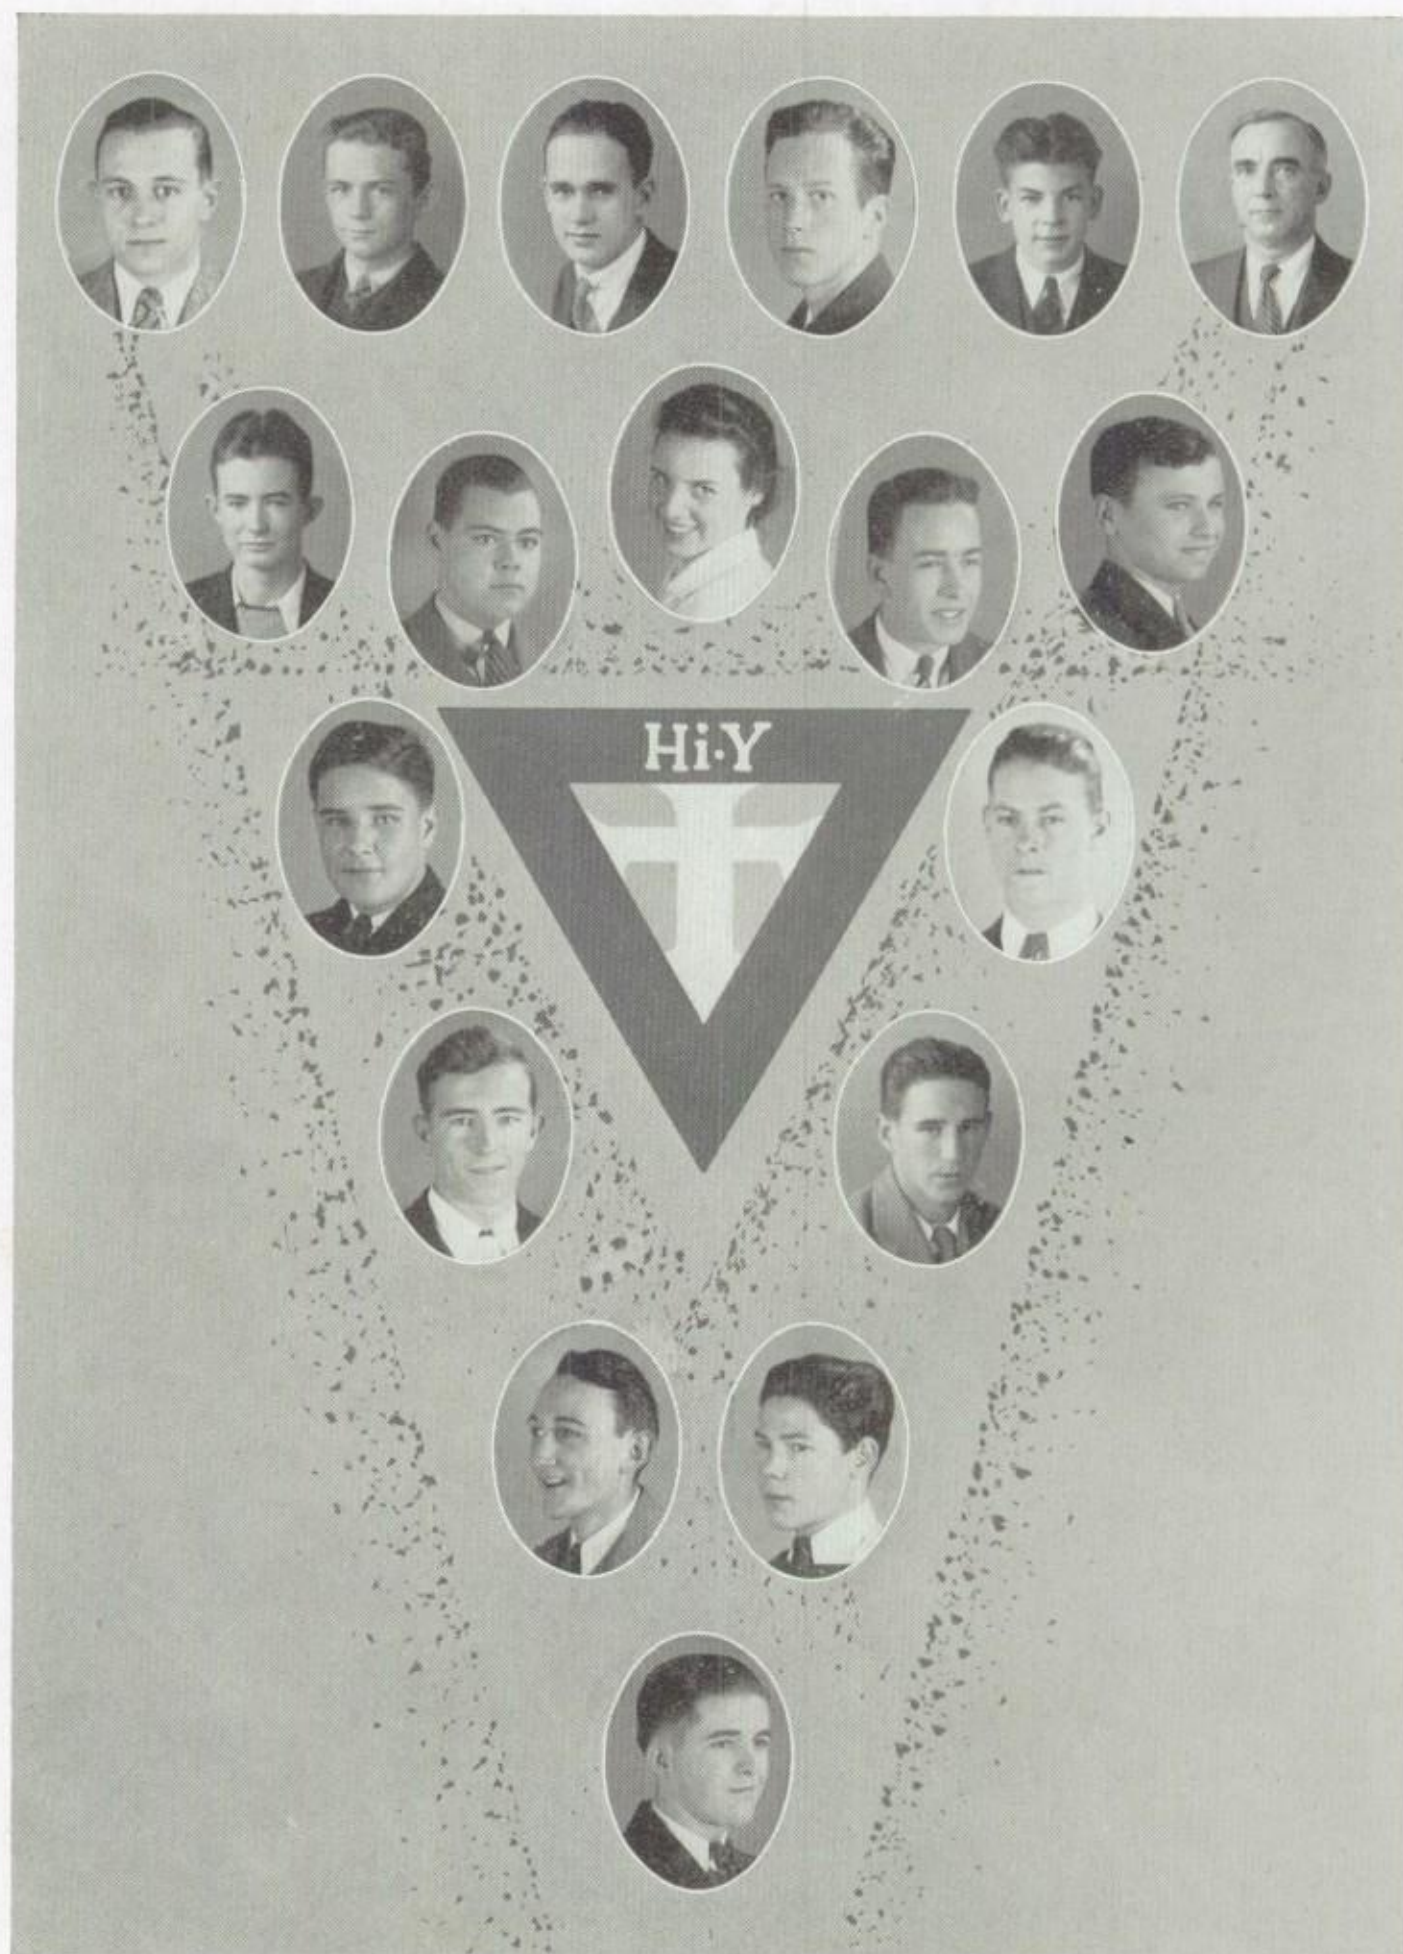

The members of the club are well known and prominent both in and out of school. The club is well represented by the Cadet Corps, having three company captains: Burdette Givens, Winkie Burnette, and Eldridge Walker. Among the officers or ex-officers are Bill Currie, Conrad McRee, Albert Dennis, John Tiller, Eugene Smith, and Joe McGehee, high school's cheer leader. Frank Sweeney and Maurice Rosenbloom, high school's handsome man, are members of the Cadet Corps. Charles Rose and Eppie Pendleton, our intellectual members, are men about town.

The club is lucky, indeed, to have as our mascot Helen Steffey, a member of the Duckies, and one of high school's most beautiful girls. She is a real Swastika and liked by all. The best sponsor of all the clubs happens to be our own, Mr. Cecil Morales. It was through his efforts that the club has enjoyed a most successful year, and we wish to express to him our deepest appreciation—from the members of the SWASTIKA CLUB.

HIGH school boys, who are trying to establish high standards of Christian character in high school and community, make up the Hi-Y Club. That is the purpose of the club.

Many new members were enlisted in Hi-Y work during the recent membership campaign. These boys have a vital interest in Hi-Y aims. Competent officers who loyally spend their time in establishing a high level of Christian character enable the Club to progress rapidly. The Club is fortunate in having as its advisers Mr. Walter F. Beverly and Mr. D. V. Blayney. The Club has prospered considerably under their leadership.

The Club supports itself by having a booth at the Virginia State Fair every year. Money is used to help support foreign boys' work, and to keep the Club rooms in good condition.

The Hi-Y Club assisted by other school clubs sponsored a "Fair Play" program in our school.

THE Monocle is a bi-weekly paper published by the students of John Marshall High School. In its columns are recorded the intimate happenings and interesting occurrences of the school life. To offer a wider field of study in the technique and methods of journalism, the school offers a course in journalism and the Monocle is made up largely by students in that class.

THE Record is the literary magazine, published quarterly by the students of John Marshall. The first Record appeared in 1909 with William J. Parrish, Jr., as editor and Robert Phinney, business manager. Through the English classes every student had a chance to write for the magazine, and from these contributions the finest literary work was chosen to make up the Record.

THE year book, the MARSHALLITE, bears the name of the school it represents, John Marshall High School. The first MARSHALLITE was edited by William J. Parrish, Jr., in 1911, with the assistance of Emanuel W. Wallerstein as business manager. The staff of 1934 MARSHALLITE has endeavored to embrace in its pages an authentic summary of the year's adventures.

JOHN MARSHALL, 0; LYNCHBURG, 6. The Justices opened the 1933 football season by losing a hard fought game to Glass High of Lynchburg. John Marshall was on the verge of scoring continually, but late in the third quarter, the Glass High captain, Marshall, blocked a kick, then recovered it and raced twenty yards for the games' lone score. On the third play of the game,

Dick Ames was hurt, and thus John Marshall's chances suffered a severe blow. Several chances at scoring were missed when Miller's passes were muffed.

"Chick" Miller was the star for the Justices.

JOHN MARSHALL, 19; PORTSMOUTH, 18. Early in this game the Justices got started and the third quarter ended 19-0 for John Marshall. However, in the final quarter, Miller, Phillips, and Buhrman were hurt. Then Harrel caught half a dozen passes which were combined with some long end runs by Heely to give Woodrow Wilson three touchdowns. They did not make a single extra point, and therefore the Justices were victorious.

JOHN MARSHALL, 13; ROANOKE, 6. In the first few minutes of the game, Roanoke took the ball down to the Justice 5-yard line. The line held and then John Marshall through two twenty-five yard runs by Miller and runs by Walsh made a touchdown. Buhrman broke through the Roanoke line for the extra point. Roanoke immediately retaliated by making a touchdown but failed to get the extra point. In the second half Miller again made a touchdown after a twenty-yard run. The game ended 13 to 6. Miller again was the star, and was ably supported by Walsh, Buhrman, Spain, McLaughlin and Wright.

JOHN MARSHALL, 6; DANVILLE, 0. The fourth conference game was a determined struggle by both teams and was a tie until Dick Ames in the last quarter of the game, plunged through the Danville line for the only score of the game. In the third quarter, Danville recovered a fumble on the John Marshall ten-yard line and made four valiant attempts to carry the ball over the line. Each time the Justices stopped the runners in their tracks. After Ames had made the touchdown in the fourth, Danville started passing in all directions. John Marshall was successful in breaking up a total of nine out of the twelve passes, and when the whistle blew the score read 6 to 0 in favor of the Justices.

JOHN MARSHALL, 13; ST. CHRISTOPHER, 14. Just after the opening whistle, John Marshall started a march towards the Saints goal that ended in a pass from Usher to Miller who ran forty yards for a touchdown. The extra point was made. A fumble was recovered on the 10-yard line and a minute later Wright caught a pass for a second touchdown. Then Knowles broke loose in midfield and raced fifty yards to give the Saints their first goal. Once started, there was no stopping St. Christopher, and when the game was over, they emerged victors, 14-13.

JOHN MARSHALL, 7; PETERSBURG, 39. More like a track meet than a football game, the game with Petersburg was a crushing defeat. The Justices were swamped by the crimson wave. Petersburg seemed to be able to walk down the field at anytime for a touchdown. Only once did the Justices score, when in the second quarter, Woodson caught Miller's pass and ran thirty yards for a touchdown.

JOHN MARSHALL, 0; MAURY, 19. The Justices suffered a second severe whipping when Maury High of Norfolk swamped them under, 19-0. Maury made a touchdown early in the first quarter. Then John Marshall held them scoreless for the second and third periods, only to have two more touchdowns scored against them in the fourth. Hudgins and Seay, Maury men, were the stars of the game, and Buhrman and Barbour played a good steady game for John Marshall.

JOHN MARSHALL, 0; BENEDICTINE, 7. Benedictine outplayed John Marshall and beat the Justices for the first time since the two schools have played together. Wallmeyer made the only touchdown of the game and Kelly kicked the extra point. The Justices lacked fight. Time after time, their plays were stopped at the line of scrimmage by the Benedictine line. McLaughlin was the outstanding player for John Marshall. He was the one man who showed some fight, playing one of the best games he played the whole year.

JOHN MARSHALL, 0; NEWPORT NEWS, 6. On Thanksgiving Day John Marshall played probably its best game of the year with Newport News, but was defeated 6-0. In the first quarter, Newport News made their touchdown and failed to kick the extra point. For the rest of the game the Justices outplayed Newport News and on two different attacks reached the opponent's ten-yard line, only to be stopped by a stone wall defense. In the fourth quarter John Marshall reached the four-yard line, but lost the ball on downs to end their scoring threat. In all John Marshall made twelve downs to Newport News six.

JOHN MARSHALL, 25; THOMAS JEFFERSON, 0. Even though the papers stated that the Justices were the under dogs in the game with their city rivals, Thomas Jefferson, they emerged victorious by a wide margin, 25-0. The first half ended a scoreless tie, the Presidents having really kept the ball in John Marshall territory most of the time. Walsh made a twenty-yard run, W. Todd a ten-yard gain, and Buhrman carried the ball over. Ames made the extra point. Again Todd caught Ames' pass and ran ten yards for a second touchdown. Usher then downed his own kickoff for the third score. Buhrman scored a touchdown and the game ended, 25-0, the largest score John Marshall ever made against a Thomas Jefferson team.

Although the Justices succeeded in winning only four games out of a total of ten for the season, they played very good football, and worked hard to train the new men for the season to come. Since the majority of the 1933 football team will be back again in the fall, there is a great deal of hope that next year the John Marshall team will be one even more victorious. Coaches Ewing and Mattox should be congratulated on their good work.

Basketball

Even with a green squad, John Marshall once more showed superiority in basketball; for out of twenty games, the team had eleven victories and amassed more points than did their opponents. Although they lost the city championship to Thomas Jefferson, the team finished the season with a good record. Considering the fact that the team was composed almost entirely of new men, this is a feat for all Marshallites to be proud of. Coach Proctor was forced to build his team around the one remaining letterman, Captain Tommy Wiley. The resulting squad, Wiley and Stoneburner, forwards; Mundy and Ely, guards;

Boschen, center; and Levin, Johnson, Low, Parker, Spain, and Greenburg, reserves, proved quite a capable one. Starting out with a 51 to 18 victory over Chester High School, John Marshall succeeded in taking games from Hopewell, Hargrave Military Academy, Benedictine, Hampton, Thomas Jefferson, Petersburg, Hampton again, Saint Christopher, and E. C. Glass.

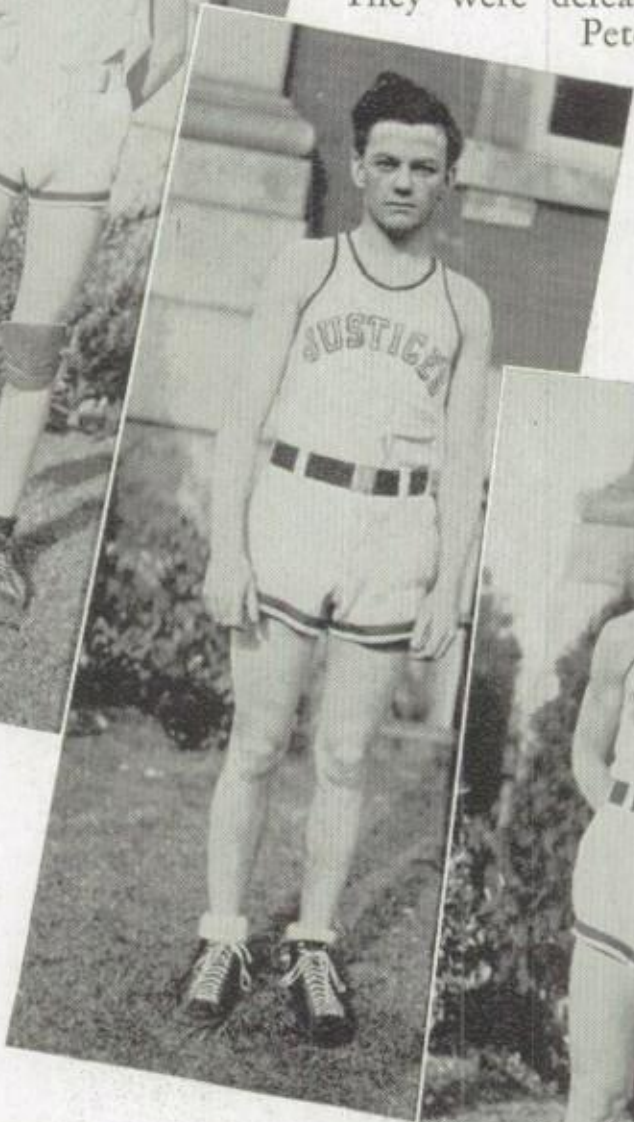

They were defeated by Glass High in one game, Petersburg in one, Maury in two, St.

Christopher once, Newport News twice, Virginia Episcopal School, Benedictine, and Thomas Jefferson. Until the last two games with the city schools, the Justices were leaders in the prep school race for the Harris-Brenaman trophy offered to the prep school city champion. Because of the defeat by Benedictine and Thomas

Jefferson, the Justices lost this cup, only to see it go to their rivals, Thomas Jefferson. They are looking forward to next season with a great deal of determination. The John Marshall team was invited to attend the South Atlantic Tournament at Washington and Lee. This school has sent teams to this tournament for the last three years, and year before last the Justice team went to finals before being defeated. Last year and this year, however, they lost out early in the matches.

One of the most praiseworthy feats that a high school team has accomplished in some time was the victory over Petersburg High School in the twelfth game of the season, when the Crimson Wave lost to John Marshall 13 to 23. Led by Mundy and Wiley, the Justices came from behind in the second period and finally came out triumphant. Prior to this, Petersburg had lost only one game, that to the University of Virginia Freshmen.

Jimmy Mundy was High School's high scorer, tallying an even hundred points during the season. Boschen and Wiley were respectively second and third along this line. John Marshall did not have a player on the first all-star city team. Mundy was chosen captain and forward of the second team and Boschen was selected to play center. Wiley, Ely, and Taylor each won honorable mention.

Baseball

"Beat Thomas Jefferson and St. Christopher's and never mind the rest" might well have been the Justices' battle cry during the 1933 baseball season, for that describes their record. Although the team defeated both the Presidents and Saints in all four games, it always ended up on the small end of the score with outside teams.

Starting out in the opening game against St. Christopher's with three letter men, Captain Harry Moore, Erwood Thurston, Gus Lynch, and six new men in the line-up, John Marshall promptly knocked the ball all over the lot, and won 5 to 2.

The Justices decided to show just how well they could play, so in the next game with Thomas Jefferson they played inspired ball to win the hardest game of the season, 2 to 1.

But then Hopewell came to town, and when the Wonder City boys left, they carried the spoils of victory. Three Marshallite pitchers were fed to the Hopewell batters, and not one of them could make the visitors realize they were playing baseball and not conducting a track meet. At last the Wonders were stopped and went home with a 15 to 1 victory to their credit.

The Fishburne Military Academy, the Augusta Military Academy, and Clifton Forge

High School made the valley trip anything but a happy one to John Marshall, as they won all three games from the Justices. Then the University of Richmond Freshmen and the William and Mary Freshmen made matters still worse, winning two games by the scores, 7 to 0 and 10 to 1, respectively. Petersburg was the next opponent, and Jimmy Ryan seemed to have turned the tables as the game went into the ninth inning 6 to 5 in favor of John Marshall, but then Harry Moore was the victim of a two run rally which gave the Crimson Wave the game, 7 to 6.

Bill Harlowe held the Saints to six runs while his teammates collected nine runs for the third victory of the year.

But the tide had not turned, for the University of Richmond Freshmen kept their undefeated record intact by coming from behind in the fourth inning, winning 12-3.

High School then visited the Hopewell team which started all the trouble, but were defeated in a loosely played game 10 to 2.

With one game left, the Justices found their long lost batting eyes, the last week of practice, and decided to avenge themselves upon their traditional foe, Thomas Jefferson. Everyone betting against them, the Justices entered the Stadium.

At the end of the first inning it was only the most ardent of Jefferson fans who did not realize John Marshall was not to be denied the fruits of victory. Harry Moore pitched the best game of the year as every one of his mates collected at least one hit, and he, Thurston, Harlowe, and Lynch collected three apiece to stage a track meet all their own. When at last the dust disappeared and the scorer had a chance to add up the runs, Richmond baseball fans were given the shock of the year at the announcement of a 16 to 0 Marshallite victory.

High School's baseball year's city record was fourteen victories and one loss for the city lead in sports.

Track

John Marshall enjoyed the most successful track season last year that the school has ever known. Led by Captain Eddie Turner, the Justice team swept impressive wins over Woodberry and E. C. Glass in dual meets, as well as captured the City, Tidewater, State, and "C" Club championships. William and Mary Freshmen was the only team to defeat the Justices. Eddie Turner did himself proud by lowering the school records in the 100 and 220 yard dashes. Eddie ran the 100 in 10.1 seconds while his 220 mark of 22 seconds remains the most impressive.

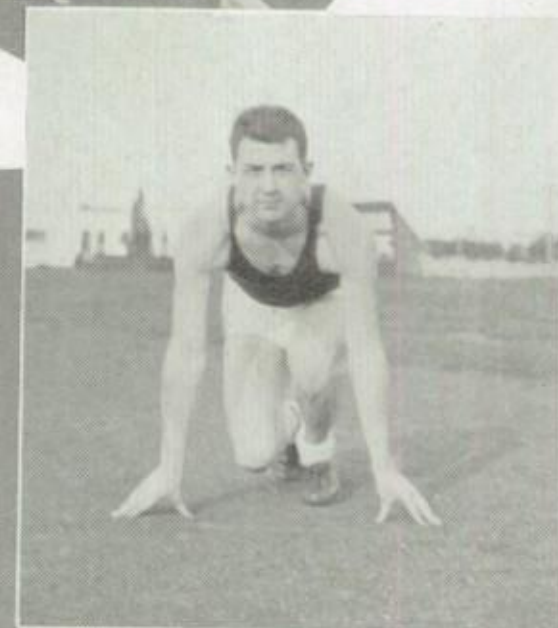

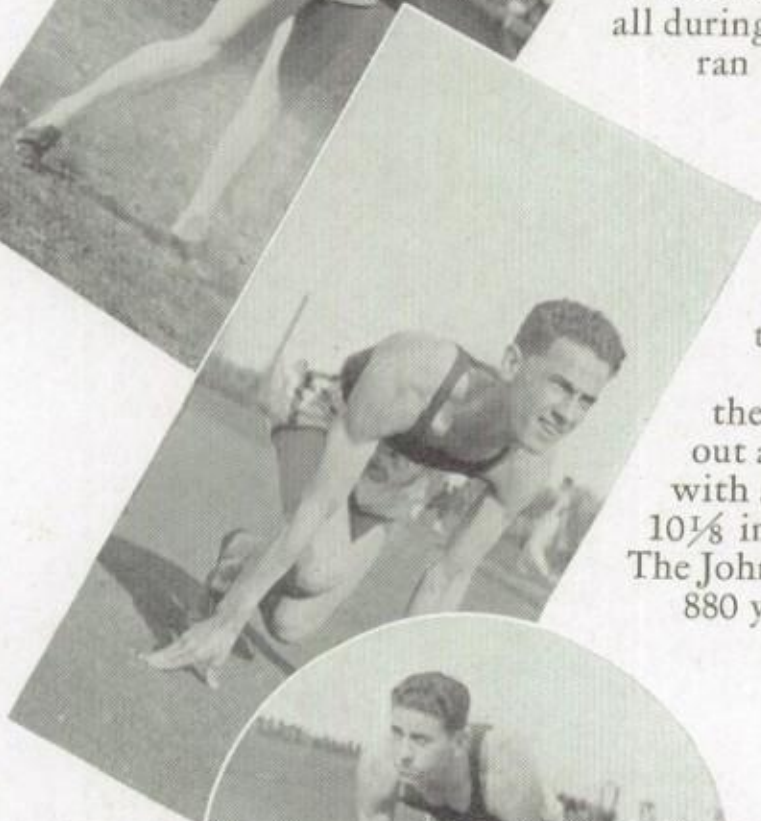

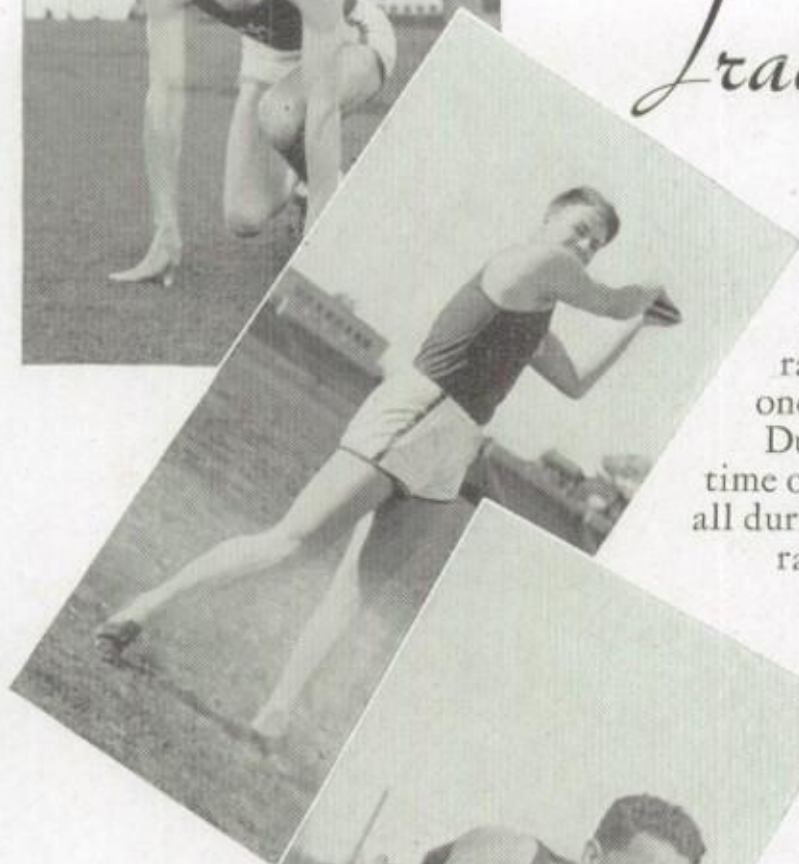

Duncan Hawley was another who lowered a record. His time of 24.6 for the 220 yard low hurdle kept sport fans agog all during the season. His running mate, William McMullin, ran the 120 yard high hurdles in 15.5 seconds.

James Farley gained for himself two school records, one of them also a State record, when he hurled the 12 pound shot 45 feet 11½ inches to add to the defeat of Woodberry and St. Christopher's in a triangular meet. At Charlottesville, his throw of 120 feet 10½ inches gave impetus to the Justices' victory as well as its third State record.

Tommy Wiley set a new school record as he cleared the bar at 10 feet 8 inches. Douglas Holland battled it out against the entire city in the City meet, and emerged with a new school record to his credit. His jump of 5 feet 10⅛ inches is a challenge for future Marshallites.

The John Marshall team established two relay records. The 880 yard medley relay run at the "C" Club in Washington was one of the fastest ever run in the country, while the mile relay run at Charlottesville broke the record in the high school division.

for these entire United States. Eddie Turner, William Hopkins, Edward Odell, and Duncan Hawley each averaged 23 seconds for 220 yards in capturing the 880 yard medley relay. Fred Hardy, William Hopkins, Douglas Holland and Eddie Turner each averaged 51 seconds on their leg of the mile run to establish a new record at the State meet.

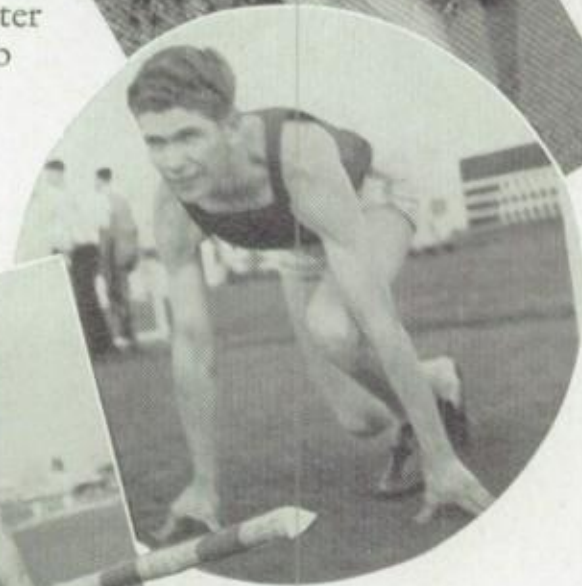

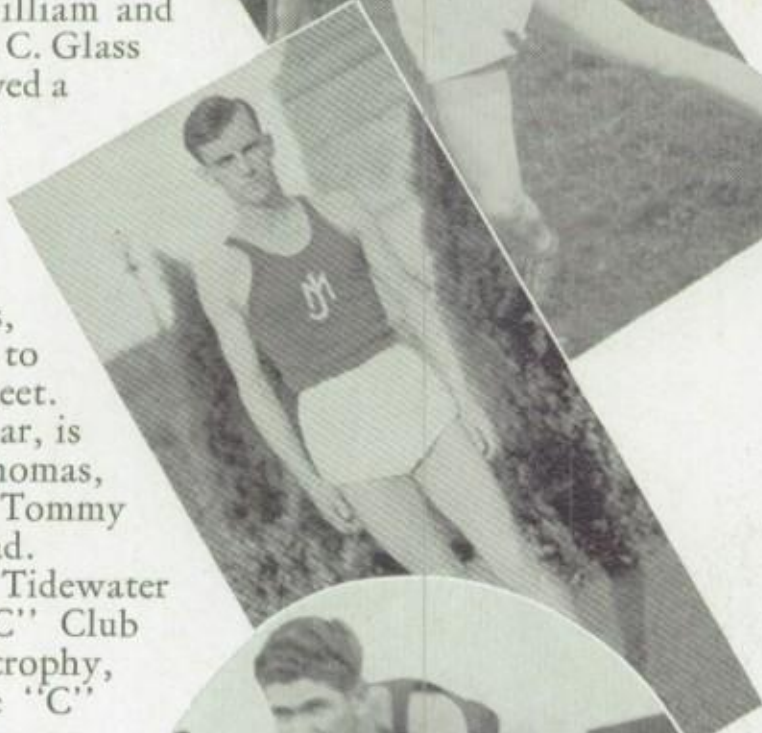

The Justices went to Chapel Hill for the Southern Conference Indoors, where they placed fourth over a field of the better prep and high school teams of the South. Following the conference meet the Justices took Woodberry and St. Christopher in a triangular meet, only be set back the following week-end by the William and Mary Freshmen. The Marshall men then took E. C. Glass into the fold by an impressive score. Then followed a string of championships in their respective order:

The City championship, The Virginia Literary and Athletic Association championship, and the Classic "C" Club championship. After the regular season had closed, Duncan Hawley, Bill McMullin, Eddie Odell, William Hopkins, Jimmie Farley and Edmund Turner made the trip to Chicago for the National Interscholastic meet.

William Hopkins, a consistent winner this year, is Captain-elect for 1934, and along with Aulton Thomas, Fred Hardy, Stuart Todd, T. C. Whitworth and Tommy Wiley, will form the nucleus of the 1934 squad.

The Justices have in their trophy cases the Tidewater trophy, the Class "A" State Plaque, the "C" Club championship cup, the "C" Club 880 Relay trophy, and a mounted runner, also an award of the "C" Club for the efforts of the 1933 team competing on Virginia and out of State fields.

Hockey

"We're out for a good season," said Miss Webb to the group of girls gathered around her. They had come out to Byrd Park to begin the hockey season with a bang! Nearly all last year's team had graduated, so the few who knew which end of the hockey stick to hold began to show the others what fun there can be playing hockey.

Laura Coit was elected captain and Frances Corr, manager of the team. The regular line up was: Center forward, Coit; inners, Schaaf and Southward or Moore; wings, Baker and Morrison; center half, Ligon or Arie; half backs, Nenzel and Cooper; full backs, Corr and Leonard; goal, Ruffin. The regular substitutes were: Whitton, Britton, Cooke and Welsh.

Bessie Leonard, the star full back, honored the team and school by making All Richmond Team!

"Collegiate ready—John Marshall ready?"—and off the whistle went—so did the girls. The bully was over in a second and the ball was passed to the inner who dribbled it a few yards and passed it to her wing; just as the Collegiate half back made a tackle. The wing received the ball and carried it down the field. With a mighty hit she sent it flying to the inner, who missed it and made sticks! It wasn't long though until she got the ball again and rushed it straight through the goal! Whether John Marshall won or lost, the team always enjoyed the game. Of the two "play games" John Marshall was beaten by Petersburg and won the game against a mixed team.

Miss Webb, John Marshall's most efficient athletic coach for girls, has entered wonderfully into her position, and will be a great asset to the school. She is a splendid influence for the girls and has added interest and spirit, not only in girls' sports, but all school activities. The hockey team has a treasure in their coach. The Y. W. C. A. sponsors hockey and loaned their sticks to John Marshall. The team is most grateful to the Y for all their help and interest.

Hockey is rapidly coming into its own at John Marshall and is a favorite sport. It is one of the finest sports, for it is splendid training not only in hockey but also in team work—which is the secret to success in athletics. Comparatively few girls go out for hockey at John Marshall because the players must go to Byrd Park to practice; but considering all its disadvantages, the team feels they have had a most successful year. They played not for the sake of winning but for the fun of playing hockey, they played hard and had a good time, they worked as a team for the school they represent, J. M. H. S. They have a new ambition for they have a sponsor they are proud of—Miss Webb, the personification of all that should be and is John Marshall Spirit.

It was a new and promising group of girls that welcomed their new coach, Miss Elizabeth Webb, early in December. Under her efficient guidance and inspiring leadership, the team worked itself up to the John Marshall standard of basketball.

Two squads were chosen early in January, according to the ability of the girls. Those selected for the Varsity were Pauline Waldbauer, captain; Edith Smith, forward; Adalyne Edwards, side center; Louise Puller, jump center; Beatrice Radman, guard; and Katherine Dressler, guard.

The second team consisted of Inez Griffin, captain, guard; Audrey Cooper, guard; Aylene Smith, jump center; Marie Gratz, side center; Martha Arie, forward; Margaret Lockwood, forward; Louise Hall, forward.

Two out of seven games were won by the Varsity. The season opened with a victory over Cathedral on January 26 of 35-20. The Marshallites, after a strong fight, were overpowered, February 6, by the Westhampton second team. It was a lively game from beginning to end and proved a great benefit to the squad. It ended with a

35-9 victory for Westhampton. Cold and snowy though it was, the Petersburg team arrived Saturday, February 8, to acknowledge the second victory of the season for the John Marshall girls with a score of 32-24. The next two games the squad lost to William and Mary and Collegiate. The extension girls had to work hard for their victory on February

13, when the final score was 19-14 for William and Mary. Collegiate displayed good team work and accurate shots ending the first half of their game with a large score. In the second half the squad came back with such gusto that their opponents could not progress very far. They were unable, however, to overcome the opponent's lead, making the score 23-11. This game was played at John Marshall on February 16.

St. Catherine's proved the year's hardest game. It was February 23, when St. Catherine's led by the large margin of 30-8.

The skillful players of the Thomas Jefferson team carried the game to a successful finish for their school on March 2. The largest crowd present at any game this year surrounded the Thomas Jefferson gym. Even though the score was large, 42-11, the game was intensely interesting. This ended the basketball season for John Marshall.

Lucy Cooke was the manager and Mary Lee Groom and Katherine Holmes were assistants. The team is indebted to Miss Edith Sydnor, Miss Elizabeth Brockenborough, and Miss Katherine Cross, who have so willingly loaned their cars and services throughout the season. It appreciates the interest the faculty has shown in the advancement of girls' sports.

Loyalty, faithfulness, interest, skill, sportsmanship, coöperation—the team recognized these as elements of success.

"The talent of success is nothing more than doing what you can well, and doing well whatever you do without a thought of fame."

Davidson College

WILLIAM McILWAIN THOMPSON
WILLIAM TALIAFERRO THOMPSON, JR.
ROBERT THORNWELL COIT
JAMES WOODROW HASSELL
JAMES HARVEY GLASS
FRANCIS A. BROWN
WILLIAM HARRISON HIGGINS
WILLIAM PALMER HILL

That is an unusually fine group of young men. John Marshall may well be proud of them. They are making a splendid record at Davidson. They will be glad to tell you more about Davidson College, and so will we. Davidson stands for high educational standards and high Christian ideals. It is on the select list of colleges approved by the Association of American Universities.

WALTER L. LINGLE, President,

Hampden-Sydney College

1776-1934

SHAKESPEARE says, "We are advertised by our loving friends;" and one of the largest advertisers in America, in speaking of the popularity of his goods, says, "There is a Reason."

Hampden-Sydney is advertised most of all by its own student body; and surely there is a reason—in fact, many reasons:

One is that the atmosphere is a wholesome and a Christian one.

Another is that there is a hearty co-operation between students and faculty.

A third is that at Hampden-Sydney a student has to earn what he gets; but he knows he will get what he earns.

A fourth is that the students recognize that a Hampden-Sydney diploma is one of quality, based on the fact that this College has entrance requirements which insure better preparation than the average.

A fifth is that Hampden-Sydney declines to allow any "short cuts" to a diploma. The College wishes quality boys for quality work.

If interested, write to the REGISTRAR, HAMPDEN-SYDNEY, VIRGINIA

What Should be . . .

YOUTH'S FIRST INVESTMENT?

YOUTH'S first investment should be life insurance, said a distinguished financial authority. Foresighted bankers and business men everywhere endorse this statement.

Material success depends on wise management of money. To young people, life insurance . . . the safest money-management plan ever devised . . . gives unusually favorable advantages.

Good Luck and SUCCESS

—in whatever path you may follow after graduation. May we wish you also the companionship and inspiration of a pipe and good tobacco. Successful men prefer a pipe and mild, flavorful tobacco to any other form of smoking. A pipe is a calm, deliberate smoke—the kind of smoke that makes for concentration and clear thinking.

Edgeworth has been a leading favorite among pipe smokers for more than 30 years. No finer quality tobacco is available. It is a blend of only the tenderest leaves of the burley plant, what tobacco-nists call the “mildest pipe tobacco that grows.” The blend and treatment of these leaves is a priceless Edgeworth secret.

Ask for Edgeworth Ready-Rubbed or Edgeworth in Slice form. All sizes from 15¢ pocket package to pound humidors tins. Edgeworth is also sold in vacuum packed tins in which the tobacco remains in perfect condition in any climate. Larus & Bro. Co., Richmond, Va.
